- LET'S DO IT

Com a ajuda do seu professor, acompanhe a leitura do trecho do texto científico Fires in Brazil: health crises and the failure of government action, vinculado ao jornal The Lancet Regional Health - Americas, and then analyze the graph regarding fires in Brazil in 2024, e transcreva as palavras que você reconhecer no seu caderno.

Health implications of wildfires

The health impacts of the recent fires in Brazil are already becoming apparent, particularly in terms of respiratory diseases. Hospitalisations due to respiratory conditions have increased by almost 28% in 2024. A survey conducted in some public and philanthropic hospitals across Brazil shows that, from January to August 2024, hospitalisations caused by respiratory diseases rose by 27.6% compared to the same period last year. The financial burden is also significant, with hospitalisations costing R$11 million (approximately USD 2.2 million) more in 2024 than in 2023, according to data from a hospital management company.

These current statistics are consistent with previous findings on the health effects of wildfires in Brazil. A study conducted nationwide in Brazil revealed that wildfire waves were linked to a 23% rise in respiratory hospital admissions and a 21% increase in circulatory hospital admissions. In the Northern region, which encompasses much of the Amazon, the impacts were even more significant, with respiratory admissions increasing by 38% and circulatory admissions rising by 27%. These results highlight the serious health risks associated with wildfire events, especially in areas most affected by deforestation and environmental degradation.

In addition to respiratory and circulatory health impacts, wildfires in Brazil have been linked to adverse birth outcomes, including preterm birth, low birth weight, and birth defects. Requia et al. (2021) found increased odds of birth defects such as cleft lip/palate, congenital respiratory anomalies, and nervous system defects linked to wildfire exposure during pregnancy. Wildfires were also associated with a 0.98% increase in low birth weight in the Midwest and an 18.55% increase in the South, particularly during first-trimester exposure. Furthermore, exposure to wildfire smoke during pregnancy raised the odds of preterm birth, especially in the Southeast and North. Wildfires have also been shown to negatively affect academic performance in Brazil, serving as a proxy for cognitive and neural health, which underscores the broader impact of these events on human well-being.

- As you have noticed, the fire rate increases considerably every year. To see how this can affect all of us, the teacher will divide the class into two groups. The first group will represent government agencies and departments responsible for developing proposals or measures that can mitigate the effects of the global climate crisis caused by man. The second group will represent society and its point of view on these same effects, pointing out daily actions that can also help save our planet. Let's go do it.

Feels like summer - Childsh Gambino -

You can feel it in the streets

On a day like this, the heat

It feel like summer

I feel like summer

I feel like summer

You can feel it in the streets

On a day like this, the heat

I feel like summer

She feel like summer

This feel like summer

I feel like summer

Seven billion souls that move around the sun

Rolling faster, fast and not a chance to slow down

Slow down

Men who made machines that want what they decide

Parents tryna tell their children please slow down

Slow down

I know

Oh, I know you know that pain

I'm hopin' that this world will change

But it just seems the same

(It feels like the same)

You can feel it in the streets

On a day like this, the heat

It feels like summer

(I feel like summer)

I feel like summer

(I feel like summer)

I feel like summer

Every day gets hotter than the one before

Running out of water, it's about to go down

Go down

Air that kill the bees that we depend upon

Birds were made for singing

Waking up to no sound

No sound

I know

Oh, I know you know my pain

I'm hopin' that this world will change (yeah)

But it just seems the same

I know

Oh, I hope we change

I really thought this world could change

But it seems like the same

I know

Oh, my mind is still the same

I'm hoping that this world will change

But it just seems the same

I know

Oh, I hope we change
